

SOCIETY and PERSONAL ACTIVITIES of WOMEN

SOCIETY

Despite the fact that Old Sol seemed to have been working his scorching rays over time during the week just passed and that a few of our society folk were down east investigating the standing of the Carpenter family of France, perhaps to assure themselves that there really was no resemblance to the Carpenters at home, the week was rather a gay one. The Country club finished the setting for several most elaborate luncheons and dinner-dances, among them the Woman's golf tournament on Friday, at which time Mrs. Willomine Morrison carried off the prize in the Bogey tournament, not to mention the numerous parties at the many near-by lakes and the dances at Hudson where the music has proven the magnet for drawing the younger set each evening to that popular resort.

The week approaching starts off lively enough with the special Fourth of July attractions at the Country club, golf all day, the dinner-dance in the evening and a fine display of fireworks to interest the children of members; the exposition in full swing at Springbrook and symptoms developing for numerous smaller affairs toward the rest of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Sellers, of 1333 Lincoln way W., have just returned from a 10 months trip around the world, having sailed last August from Vancouver, B. C., making their first stop at Japan, their itinerary covering points in the Philippines, China and the Far East. Sailing from Colombo, Ceylon and landing at Marseilles, France, they visited the battlefields and other places of interest in Europe, proceeding from there to the British Isles, returning by way of Liverpool to New York. Mr. Sellers made the trip in the interest of the Oliver Plow works.

WHERE A CHILD MAY NOT PLAY WITH A SPOON.

ARE you one of those who will not walk under a ladder, raise an umbrella in the house or spill the salt without casting a few grains over your shoulder? If you believe in these or the kindred superstitions fast dying out in this country, you will feel a degree of kinship with the average Bulgarian peasant. For there are so many things a Bulgarian may not do.

Among the many customs of rural Bulgaria, to neglect which is considered unlucky and even sinful, are the following: To bring flour into the house and neglect to fumigate it with special incense. This must be done to drive out of the flour any demon which may have entered the sack.

When the housewife or her daughter goes to the spring for water, she must not neglect to spill a little on the ground before even starting with the pail for the house. This is done to turn out any elemental spirit which has been scooped into the pail. If it isn't done the spirit may take up its abode in the house, and may even enter the body of one of the family who drinks the water.

If you are asked to sell a loaf of bread you must not part with it without first having cut or torn off a small piece from an end. The spirit that has helped you make the bread must be given a chance to fly out of the loaf and still linger in the house he loves.

Under no circumstances may you give a child a spoon to play with. I do not know just why you may not do this, but it is considered exceedingly unlucky. Nor can I account for the belief which is common in some far farming sections of Bulgaria, that it is very unlucky to give a child under 7 years of age a bath. The child may wash itself, but that is its own lookout. The mother may wash the child a little also, but yet give it a bath all over at one time. Imagination easily accounts for the
